LETTER FROM PRESIDENT ELECT TO OPHTHALMOLOGY TRAINEES

Dear WMSO Doctors-in-Training,

Thanks to those of you who attended the recent Midland Ophthalmic Society (MOS) meetings at NCC and Stanbrook Abbey. We hope you found the days enjoyable and informative.

MOS has agreed with the WMSO that doctors-in-training can attend MOS meetings without charge, whether MOS members or not, as part of the registered teaching programme.

The forthcoming dates are:

October 7th 2022
March 24th 2023
June 9th 2023

The dates will be included with the venue in the list of post-graduate teaching.

The annual autumn meeting hosts the annual MOS prize presentations for doctors-in-training in each of three categories; posters, clinical presentations and academic presentations as well as the annual Middlemore lecture which dates back to 1889. In October 2022 Miss Helen Palmer will be giving this lecture.

We ask that you inform MOS at the end of your training as the free meeting attendance will then finish.

The Society is delighted to be able to offer you meeting attendance free of charge. We do however invite you to become Members of the Society. The organisation is a historic one which has always considered mentoring, training and camaraderie to be at the core of its existence (www.midophth.com).

The subscription charge for Membership is currently only £50 a year, which supports the Society's funds in order to organise and host future meetings. To become a member please complete the membership form on the website and e-mail it back to Juliette Edwards (firstrateltd@icloud.com). Your annual subscription is paid by direct debit using the Go Cardless link: <https://pay.gocardless.com/AL0000Y7JR4KQ5>.

Being an MOS member demonstrates your engagement in the Society, it can be shown on your CV and will give you access to past meeting presentations on-line.

I look forward to welcoming you to our future meetings in person.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Joe Abbott
President Elect
Midland Ophthalmological Society
